NEWS FROM DURHAM.

The Handsome and New Hotel at Trinity College—Work on Trinity's Tower.

Special to STATE CHRONICLE.

DURHAM, N. C., Oct. 13, 1891.

One of the most attractive hotels in the State will be the College Inn, which the Messrs. Duke are building at Trinity College. Its cost will approximate $30,000 and its furnishing will be complete. It will have 100 rooms.

John Watson, Esq., a well known lawyer of Chapel Hill, died at his home there yesterday. He had served a term in the legislature.

Early this morning James Inscow, aged 76 years, was found dead in bed at his home here.

News was received here to-day of the death at her home at Wilmington of Mrs. Jewett (nee Miss Susie Phillips.)

The internal revenue collections this month promise to be very large, having been nearly $17,000 last week.

Workmen are rebuilding the fallen tower of Trinity college. This time good materials are being used.

Money talks and the plainest proof of Durham's prosperity is given in the statement that at present building improvements to the value of $125,000 are in progress.

TURKISH OUTRAGES.

The Abduction of American Girls—Other Items of Interest.

By United Press.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 13. This morning Mrs. Fannie Hoffman, postmistress of Coalburg, attempted to shoot J. T. Hill, manager of the Sloss Iron and Steel Company, and deputy marshal Schenfield. Mrs. Hoffman met the two men and drew a pistol and fired three shots. None of the bullets took effect. A policeman put her under arrest, when she took another pistol from a basket and again tried to shoot the two men. She was finally disarmed and taken to jail, where she was released on bond.

ABDUCTED AMERICANS.

LONDON, Oct. 12. From Constantinople comes an account of more outrages on the Christian Armenians. The Turks who recently carried off a number of Armenian maidens were permitted by the authorities to retain them, notwithstanding the protests of their parents, on the ground that the girls had become converted to Mohammedanism.

As no one had a chance to see the girls and ascertain whether the alleged conversion had any basis of truth, the decision was so manifestly unjust that it created great alarm throughout Armenia. That the alarm was justified is proven by the fact that the abduction and alleged conversion of Armenian girls is now becoming an established Turkish industry.

SIX LABORERS KILLED.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., October 13. Last night six laborers on a construction train at Ensley City went to sleep in a car where a red hot stove was close to two kegs of powder. The powder ignited and exploded, blowing the car to fragments, killing Sam Williams, John Jones, Orange Plumb and Frank Miller, and fatally injuring Sandy Norway and Henry Bradford.

Inauguration of President Winston.

To-day is the day set for the inauguration of Mr. George Tayloe Winston as President of the State University. The speakers are three of the biggest men in the country—Dr. Curry, President Gilman and Walter H. Page. At night an elegant reception will be given at President Winston's and afterwards the boys will give a german complimentary to the visiting young ladies.

Among those who went up from Raleigh yesterday afternoon were Col. Thos. S. Kenan, who will make the welcome address; Rev. Charles E. Taylor, D. D., President Wake Forest College; Prof. W. L. Potat, professor of natural history, of Wake Forest College; Prof. C. D. McIver, President of the Normal and Industrial College; Rev. I. McK. Pittenger, Rev. Bennett Smedes and Rev. A. B. Hunter, of Raleigh; F. D. Winston, of Bertie; A. B. Andrews, Jr., of Raleigh; Mayor Badger and Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh.

THREE FAILURES.

The Rev. Dr. A. C. Dixon, at the Hanson Place Baptist church, Brooklyn, Sunday, in his sermon on three failures, Balmaceda, Boulanger and Parnell, said: "Balmaceda was once the most popular man in Chili. Intelligent, bold, patriotic, he gained the confidence of his countrymen and they were ready to give him anything but their liberties. But it is evident that he had read the biography of Napoleon Bonaparte and was trying to imitate him. The life of Boulanger, taken as a whole, is a weird caricature on greatness. He was a brave, daring, dashing soldier and politician; a sort of over-development of the dramatic character in the French; a vessel with much sail and little ballast. Charles Stewart Parnell was the only truly great man in this trio. He was brave, determined, patient, persistent and patriotic. He loved Ireland and was ready to sacrifice all for her good. As a leader of men he had few equals, but he failed to lead himself aright."

PEANUT POLITICS.

The Rev. Dr. Thomas Dixon at Association Hall Sunday took Professor Briggs' case as the subject of his sermon, in which he said: "The old cronies who used to bend the energies of a life to the tremendous question of how many angels could sit on the point of a needle at the same time are now whetting their jawbones to slay Professor Briggs. They have hoisted the flag of truce to the devil and declare that the abstract question of dogma is of more importance than of the salvation of souls. They leave the world to go to hell while they hold an Indian dance around the greenwood fires of a heretic trial. Scratch an ecclesiastic beneath the skin and you will find a savage. The man who worships before the fetish of 'authority,' whether the authority of a Pope or a majority of noses, is sure to show the claws of the beast in the enforcement of that 'authority.'"

The Circus Comes and Goes.

John Robinson's circus yesterday was a mascot. It brought sunshine, which the people wanted to see as much as they did the parade and the performance. The throng on the streets was a large one, fully up to the average and some said above it. It is nearing the end of the circus season and the vehicles were rather battered of course. This made the parade not up to Robinson's standard. But the tent show was good. The spectacular first part, in which Solomon and the Queen of Sheba figured, was the grand attraction for many people and the effects were dazzling and the dancing remarkable for grace and precision. The ring performances were as a rule good. The audience at the afternoon performance was very large, and the one at night fully up to the average. John Lowell in his long familiar clown's costume is no longer in the ring. He wears sober attire now. The clowns who succeed him are fun-makers in pantomime only and not in words.

Democratic Gathering for Counsel.

NO COUNTER MANIFESTO TO BE ISSUED.

THE WRECKED DISPATCH.

The Vessel's Crew Safe—Chile Quiet—News Nuggets.

By Cable.

NO COUNTER MANIFESTO.

LONDON Sept. 13th. Justin McCarthy, M. P., stated to-day in an interview that he did not intend to issue a counter manifesto, that he trusted to the verdict of the nation, and particularly to the good sense of the Irish people. All that he and his colleagues cared to remember now was Parnell's noble endeavor to promote the interests of Ireland.

THE FREEMAN'S JOURNAL TALKS.

DUBLIN, Sept. 13. The Freeman's Journal in commenting on the manifesto issued by the Parnellites, bitterly deplored their manifest intention to nurture the spirit of faction. "Unending strife," says the Journal, "is the prospect they place before the country. The programme thus offered is the greatest act of cruel, senseless treachery ever perpetrated upon the Irish nation."

INDIANAPOLIS DEMOCRATIC.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., October 13. The city election today resulted in the election of the entire Democratic ticket by majorities now estimated from 1,500 to 3,000. Sullivan, for mayor, runs one thousand ahead of the ticket. The campaign was the most exciting and bitter in the history of municipal elections.

THE WRECKED STEAMER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 13. Lt. Wadsworth, inspector of the life-saving service, now at Assateague, telegraphs to the Navy department this morning that the "Despatch" is broken up forward of the engines, and her upper works are washed off. Officers and crew are all well at the station, where they will remain until the weather abates. The weather is thick with heavy gales and very high tide.

QUIETING DOWN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. Several despatches have been received at the Navy department within the last few days from Admiral Brown at Valparaiso, Chile. All indicate that matters are gradually quieting down and that the Junta is strengthening its hold upon its followers.

NEWS NUGGETS.

The National Prison Congress in session at Chicago elected officers for the ensuing year.

The iron steamboat "Norfolk," which sailed from Washington for Norfolk Sunday night and was due at Washington Monday morning, failed to arrive. Her agents report that it is in the Rappahannock river and safe.

Heavy gales are reported along the Delaware coast.

A Correction.

Last Saturday the CHRONICLE stated that Mrs. Charlie Jones made a beautiful balloon ascension at the Exposition grounds Friday afternoon. It develops that it was not Mrs. Charlie Jones—in fact the aeronaut by the name of Jones is a batchelor. The lady in question was Mrs. R. J. Hawkins and hers was without doubt the prettiest shoot upwards yet made.

INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF, DUMB AND BLIND.

Special Cor. State Chronicle.

When interviewed a few days since on the management of the asylum for the deaf, I am credited with saying what might admit of two meanings. Far be it from me to acknowledge that that institution is a model one; for in view of the more modern methods of teaching the deaf it is perhaps the furthest behind of any State institution in our land. No reflection on its present management, for under existing circumstances I doubt if it could be improved. From the general construction and arrangement of the buildings, the blind, sign and oral taught, all being together, the very nature of their affliction requires different methods of training, and they should be in separate buildings and enclosures. In now precludes the possibility of any management producing satisfactory results. From what I could learn economy has well nigh ruined this school. The appropriations are insufficient to employ competent oral teachers. The small class that is now being instructed in speech is due more to the untiring energy of the management to place it abreast with the more progressive institutions than to any special appropriation for that purpose. Gentlemen, have you done your duty in presenting the claims of humanity and these unfortunate ones to the legislature? Legislators, will you condemn to a cruel and unjust banishment from society by denying these unfortunate ones speech, which would be an unceasing consolation, and teach them signs which can be of no possible use or benefit when they are taken away from their teachers and brothers in misfortune?

TWO DESPERADOES CAPTURED

After They Had Burned a Railway Station.

Norman Edwards and John Boone, two white men, assaulted the station agent at Sandy Bottom, on the Western North Carolina railroad, in Madison county. They were arrested and confined in the station building for safe keeping until morning. Before morning the building was on fire and with considerable freight was destroyed. The prisoners escaped. Friday the Asheville police were furnished a description of the fugitives, and on Monday they were captured at Asheville. They were on Monday taken to Madison county by the sheriff. The police who made the arrests get rewards from the county and the railroad company.

Sun's Phantasma.

A classic figure is presented in Jules Venra, the Parisian Wonder Worker with Sun's New Phantasma Novelty Co., who gave a performance to a large and appreciative audience at the Academy of Music last night. Mr. Venra performs his act precisely the same as the original Sahib-Ben-Hommed, the East Indian Necromancer. Instantaneous production of articles from the air, flying vases, enchanted watch, East Indian water feat, turning the rod into the serpent and other feats. The company is a good one and deserved the full house that greeted them. They will play a return engagement at a later date.—Cleveland, O., Leader.
